- International Titles in the United States?
  - Yes, it is possible to earn an International UCI Title in the United States. The dogs are rated individually, not against the other dogs, so the judges travel instead of the dogs.

- Written Critiques from the Judge?
  - Yes, you will receive a full written critique when you leave the ring.

- About International All Breed Canine Association of America:
  - The International All Breed Canine Association of America (IABCA) began approximately fourteen years ago with the intent of making an International "UCI" Championship Title available to the American public while not exposing the dogs to the danger and inconvenience of international travel. To accomplish this, an association was formed with an International Association of dog clubs headquartered in Germany, the Union Cynologie International (UCI). The UCI organization has been in existence for over 30 years. There are many countries, throughout Europe, North America and the Far East, represented in the association, making it a truly International Organization. Through this International Organization (UCI), International Titles are awarded to dogs who meet the requirements. IABCA shows are held in accordance with the regulations and guidelines that have been established by UCI. These guidelines provide for a WRITTEN CRITIQUE OF EACH DOG ENTERED and a rating number (see Rating Chart) of how well the dog conforms to the International "UCI" breed standard. The rating a dog received, based on the critique, will determine the type of championship certificate, if any, is awarded in the class (see rating chart and title requirements). However, each dog will receive an "URKUNDE" (certificate of participation) with it's class placement noted. The International "UCI" standards are based on the "country of origin" for each breed, if possible. NOTE: It is not a requirement that a dog be registered with IABCA to be exhibited at a sanctioned show. However, in order for any certificates awarded to be applicable towards a "UCI" title THE DOG MUST BE REGISTERED WITH IABCA WITHIN 40 DAYS AFTER THE SHOW DATE.

- Who Shows At International Shows?
  - The typical entry at an IABCA International Show is an AKC recognized breed (around 80% of the entry is made up of these breeds.) The number of Rare Breeds showing is growing each year. The overall quality of the dogs is quite high, with many of the dogs already Champions of Record. The majority of the dogs are owner handled, but professional handling is allowed. Breeder/Owner handling is recognized with the Best Bred-by Exhibitor in Show Award. Seasoned exhibitors enjoy having an additional venue to show their quality dogs and earn additional titles “International”. The shows are also, good for the novice exhibitor, providing an opportunity to “show” their dogs in a relaxed atmosphere, within a learning environment. A primary focus of the IABCA shows is education and a sharing of knowledge, between the exhibitors and the judges. Many exhibitors enjoy the shows because of the relaxed atmosphere of a small show where every exhibit has a ‘good look’ due to the written critiques. The International shows have a social atmosphere of a day out with your dog. The judges enjoy the shows because they can take the time to talk to each exhibitor without time limits.

- ABOUT ALLE RASSE GRUPPE
  - The Alle Rasse Gruppe (translates to All Breed Group) is the first club formed in the United States under the parent club IABCA. International UCI Shows held in the U.S. are hosted by groups sanctioned by IABCA. These shows are held according to all rules and guidelines of UCI.

Have you ever wondered what the judge was thinking in the ring? Attend an International (European style) Show and find out!

Who Shows At International Shows?

The typical entry at an IABCA International Show is an AKC recognized breed (around 76% of the entry is made up of these breeds.) The number of Rare Breeds showing is growing each year. The overall quality of the dogs is quite high, with many of the dogs already Champions of Record. The majority of the dogs are owner handled, but professional handling is allowed. Breeder/Owner handling is recognized with the Best Bred-by Exhibitor in Show Award. Long time IABCA exhibitors are recognized by our new Gold Cup Series, where dogs of Ehren Champion ranking or higher are able to compete for BIS Gold Cup. Seasoned exhibitors enjoy having an additional venue to show their quality dogs and earn additional titles “International”. The shows are also, good for the novice exhibitor, providing an opportunity to “show” their dogs in a relaxed atmosphere, within a learning environment. TITLE REQUIREMENTS

The title requirements listed below are set forth and awarded by the Union Cynologie International e.V.(UCI) headquartered in Germany. International All Breed Canine Association of America,Inc. (IABCA) has been granted dispensation by UCI to sanction shows in the United States and to award UCI certificates and titles.

PUPPY/YOUTH TITLES

The requirements for puppy/youth Titles are different than that of the adult dog Titles. The puppies must earn three certificates in order to receive the (appropriate for age) National Title. If the puppy receives one additional certificate (appropriate for age), the puppy may apply for the International Puppy/Youth Title (appropriate for age).

ADULT TITLES

PLEASE NOTE: All levels of Championship Titles require THREE award certificate cards (of the appropriate rating) for the Titles to be issued.
It is possible to complete the International Title before completing the National. If an adult dog enters all three days of shows, and does well (V-1) all three days, the International Title will be earned. (The club assures the proper mix of three different judges, from at least two countries to all who enter the three days.)
Title Fees: UCI currently charges a processing fee of $40.00adult/$25.00puppy. .
*NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP -A National Championship title is achieved after receiving three (V-2) "CAC" certificates.
*INTERNATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP- An International UCI Championship title is achieved after receiving three "Certificat d'Aptitude au Championat International de Beaute "Certificates of Beauty" from UCI. These certificates must be awarded by three different judges, with at least two of the judges residing in different countries. (for example: 2 Americans & 1 Canadian. or 1 German)
*CHAMPIONKLASSE- Having received a National or International Championship a dog will be entered into this class in order to finish receiving the necessary "CAC" or "CACIB's" to have both championships, thereby, qualifying it for entry into the next higher class (Ehren Class).
After receiving both National and International Adult Championships a dog may move up and compete for additional(higher) championship titles. Also, note that the necessary certificates for a particular championship must be filed with IABCA,Inc. before entering the next highest class.(SeeList of Klassen/classes)

Following is a list of Championat titles in progressive order.
